

ABSTRACT

5 Solvent-free hot melt coating compositions composed of a solid linear alcohol, a thermoplastic binder, and a wax which are solid at room temperature, with a melting point of about 75°C or greater, that when heated to a temperature between about 90°C and about 135°C, forms a molten coating composition having a viscosity between 100 cps and 1200 cps and method for preparing same.

10